

Queens College - CUNY
Assistant Professor, Communication Sciences & Disorders
Dept. of Linguistics & Communication Disorders

The Communication Sciences and Disorders Program in the Department of Linguistics & Communication Disorders at Queens College/ CUNY seeks strong candidates with expertise in communication disorders and/or communication sciences for a new 9-month, tenure-track appointment to begin Fall 2008.

Duties: Teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in communication sciences and disorders, maintaining an active research program, and service to the program and college. Opportunity to join the doctoral faculty in the Ph.D. Program in Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences, CUNY.

Qualifications: Earned Ph.D. in Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology or Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences as of August 2008. CCC - SLP or CCC-A and at least 2-3 years of clinical experience preferred. Evidence of potential for excellence in teaching and research. Strong candidates in all areas of communication sciences and disorders will be seriously considered. Child/adolescent language development and disorders, stuttering and speech science are needs of the program, and expertise in these areas are a plus.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, with reviews beginning January 28, 2008. To apply: Submit letter of application highlighting qualifications, current CV, and the names/contact information for 3 professional references to: Arlene Kraat, Search Chair, Speech-Language-Hearing Center, Queens College, 65-30 Kissena Blvd., Flushing, N.Y. 11367. E-mail applications accepted: Arlene.Kraat@qc.cuny.edu